

Dear Congressman Barry Loudermilk,

I am writing to you this letter to express my sadness and disbelief concerning what is currently going on with children being forcibly separated from their parent(s) at our Southern border. While we affirm and support the rule of laws that govern these United States of America, as a Christian, I am simply horrified at what is taking place.

Congressman Loudermilk I'm sure you will agree that seeing children housed in these 'detention' centers, is saddening and makes me wonder are we a democracy that stands on a constitution that guarantees life liberty and the pursuit of happiness or are we a democracy that will turn their backs on the most vulnerable among us.

Congressperson I am writing to register my hope with your office that as our elected leader, you and all our elected leaders will not stop until these children are reunited with their parent(s) and that we would never see such things as what is happening now ever again.

Thank you for taking the time to read this letter written out of serious concern for the lives of children and their loved ones who are separated from each other at our Southern border.
